

4/23/20

4/20/20

Love Note

My Dearest Love:

The sun is out this morning but then it is out most morning's with you no matter where we're at or where we're going, no matter what we're doing - working or playing, the sun is always out for us. It's like you carry it from place to place... I know it's not me because I've seen dark skies when you're not here by my side. Maybe the sunshine come from your eyes or that beautiful smile you always bring along. There are rain clouds surrounded by rainbows in this morning's sky - the sun's still shining through. They have a new river walk along the Sacramento from the Capitol Bridge to Miller's Park, at the end of Broadway - I can see the sun shining on two lovers there, we were young then but I love you just as much today, even more than yesterday. I find I love you even more with the sunrise of each new day. May all our tomorrows be as sunny as our yesterdays. Sunny days filled with love.

I'll Love You Always
Forever & Ever
Your Steve