

, symbol given on May 26, 2020,

This symbol was given to Perdurabo II by Rosa Coelis "Shaman Lady" - as we like to call her, her name has not yet been found out, but a journey to Rosuó HGA is in progress. What makes this symbol important? What does it mean? That is the reason of the breakdown that follows this short introduction. This sigil is powerful and it had the ability to be given to another by the others' visitor, thus it clearly shows linkage as well as magick between the two. We shall now dive deeper into its meaning:

Our resources used are - 777 and Other Qabalistic Writings by Aleister Crowley
 - Latin Qabalah Simplex from Pearls of Wisdom
 - THELEMA by Colin D. Campbell
 - Northern Mysteries and Magick by Freya Aswynn

Firstly, what caught my attention were the circles, we have three closed/filled while the other four are open/clear. The numbers standing alone could be 3 = Binah "Understanding" and 4 = Chesed "Mercy", their total  $3+4=7$ , 7 is meaning a perfection that is impossible to attack. Other meanings of 3 is the 3<sup>o</sup> of the OTO which means Devotion; he who experiences Death. The 4 means Perfection; he who experiences the world beyond Death, thus the combination of the two would be what Crowley dubbed the Babe of the Abyss, death of the ego and a beginning of a new life through new eyes and views. The number 7 also stands for Netzach "Endurance", the mystical number equals 28, which is the sum of SAL or "Salt" a key component to purify and cleanse. Some may say there is a fifth open circle, but I would have to say, No, for

I seen this fifth circle as it were, an attachment, a part of the Great Hierophant, which is apparent once knows of the Elevenfold Seal and its First Gesture. It is tilted, as seen, the arrow points in the direction one would begin with the "Hexagram of the Beast" yet averse it is very much like the nine non-invertible runes of the FUTHARK, which in reference the arrow could be that of TEIWAZ - ↑, a rune used for victory and of justice. The ∪ of the sigil could thusly be a broken O which could very well be a variation of the rune INGUZ - ◇, which is a doorway, its brokenness could be a symbol for an open door way. This would fit given the fact that the four open circles could represent yet again a door; 4 is the numerical value of the Hebrew letter Daleth which means Door. Daleth is also connected to the trump card of the Tarot, "The Empress" which is connected to the 14th pathway of the Tree of Life 1+4=5. 5th letter of the Hebrew is "He" which means "window" yet another opening into a house, or a circle

This sigil, this symbol has meanings of all kinds, but most of all is its meaning of the connection, I, Rosa Coeli, and Perdurabo II here on the, and in, the realm of magick.
