Heather!

Thank you for your comments! ☺ i enjoy being an advocate and sharing my story and experiences in the Struggle for Trans Liberation, and against authoritarian/colonial rule, capitalism, fascism, and patriarchy.

i'm doing my best to prepare for parole, and remain hopeful that i'll have a fair and impartial hearing.
However, i'm playing against a stacked deck, so to speak. Thus far, i'm facing a biased psych. report with adverse findings that i pose a "high risk" of violence if released; and falsified documents that try to erase my Folsom vocational welding class, multiple college courses completed, and multiple self-help & rehabilitative certificates. The BPH-1004-
"Post Conviction Report" states falsely
"none noted". SMH!

Luckily, i have copies of my GED test scores, college transcripts, and original certificates!

Wish me luck! ☺ I stay safe!
