

Date: 7/23/2020 7:54:06 AM

"A NIGHTMARE TO FANTASY"

July 21 ,2020 Here I am one year later, a year that's been a blessing due to the most magnificent woman in the world. A woman that makes me more and more proud of her each and every single day. And after the most toxic relationship that I've ever been in, its amazing that I could ever trust anyone again! When your lied to, stole from, manipulate, cheated on, and played for a damn fool, its hard to get over something like that. And especially when she used the love you had for her mother as stepping stool to manipulate you and play you for a fool. That made the sting that much worse! But where one door closed, heaven opened up and produced the Angel of my dreams! A woman that radiates confidence, intelligence, who's sweet, kind loving, compassionate, understanding, nonjudgmental, trustworthy and who's beauty draws every man's attention!! God blessed me with an Angel that stands above all! And I'm so thankful every single day, that I walked out of the most toxic relationship I've ever been in, and into the arms of the most wonderful woman that I've ever come into contact with, and who loves me unconditionally. This is a woman that I'm truly proud of! When God made her, he broke the mold, because I've "never," in my life come into contact with such a magnificent woman as my fiancée Clo. Yes I got blessed with an Angel. Wish everyone had an Angel like mine. The world would be a much better place.

Always Ronald Wayne Clark Jr.