EMParker1,

Thanks for the transcription. I'm glad you liked the post! Sometimes it's easy to get swallowed up by the "seriousness" of everything, and I know for myself, I'm always struggling to remember to keep it light once in awhile. A little laughter, a little wit, some winking irony... for me, at least, these are what always made life good. Incidentally, I think they're also what makes punk rock good. :/  So, I'm glad I could make someone smile.

Take care,
