VOTING

Does it matter if you go to the voting polls. That is a tough question to answer. If electoral votes is what determines who becomes president of the union, perhaps people like to think they have a say so who is their leader. The fact still remains to a whole we don’t have control over who’s our leader. So why vote - I think the electoral vote should be banned and let the people speak who they want as their leader. How can we really change in the way politics is played.
