Hey there GN22,

I definitely appreciate your comments. You're very encouraging and uplifting. So, thank you. You've got a good heart and have been a good support. Sorry if this sounds like goodbye. I hate to leave things unsaid.

That being said, Natives don't believe in goodbyes. Instead, we say gi'ga wabemiin-minawa in Ojibwe, or "I'll see you later". Daily usage is usually just minawa or "later". The words for "my friend" is me'zhi.

So, minawa me'zhi!
