It would be nice to be able to tune-in to any of these networks to see what is happening in the Scientology universe. But since I have no way to do that from my prison cell — I'd truly appreciate anyone who would tune-in and report what they see, for me to read about here on my blog site.

How To: Watch Inside Flag on the Scientology Network

UNDERSTAND HOW ALL OF YOUR SELECTEES CAN TUNE IN.

DIRECTV is one of the world's largest providers of digital entertainment. It is a satellite service that sends digital satellite TV and audio to TVs and devices.

ANDROID is an operating system for mobile devices. The various applications (apps) a user gets for their phone are from Google Play: a virtual software store.

Amazon Fire TV is a small box you connect to your television to be able to stream movies and television shows and programs from the Internet.

Roku is a video streaming service that allows you to watch television via the Internet. It consists of a small device that connects the Internet to one's TV screen.

Apple TV is a video streaming service that allows you to watch TV and programs via the Internet. It consists of a small device that connects the Internet to a TV.

Scientology.TV is the address you type into your web browser—from your laptop, computer or phone. The channel also plays in Ideal Orgs everywhere.
