

Whats its like to live under deaths stigma ?

Its the most unnatural things in the world. To have bills yet no job, to be unable to work to fund your very existance. it is very frustrating to say the least. it is like being at the mercy of humanity, or peoples compassions? the sympathies of those who care. Its very humbling to have love support of friends. it is diferent than any other situaction as my life, my very existance is at stake! To be able to fund the work for my case and find the evidence and materials hidden from my team. Has alot to say about the so called justice system. its unjust.

it is a testament to a mans pride, his ego to be able to take care of himself at the very least. To feel helpless is a challenge for me personaly. I'd work my fingers to the bone if I could!

its dehumanizing and on some level just wrong to put a man in a cage, deny him the tools to balance the scales of justice. I try to cope with the fears, the anxieties that come with this death penalty. I see the adverse effects it has on all it touches!

The emotional baggages it leaves in its wake. Its a currsed rollercoaster ride of death. Indeed you do not want it to stop either. It comes down to money- what makes this world go around.

I would like to thank all who have helped my plight - who've funded my fight, and those who wish to donate can by joining us on facebook.com/friendsofcharlesvictorthompson/ contact my little sister Rebekah she can give you details on how to make a diferance in my life and very future.

I leave with the quote a dear friend shared with me today....

You yourself, as much as anybody else in the entire universe deserve your love and affection.

I remain in sturuggle for life.

In Solidarity,
