Asante sana, for taking the time to transcribe my writing. it is sincerely appreciated.

Likewise, Asante for your comments. You are correct it is somewhat difficult to get a complete picture of topics such as the murder of Breonna. I am limited at best, to a brief dialogue about such acts or sound bites. I attempt to use the information received from the people involved.

However, in the case of Breonna, I am very much 'ACCURATE' in my statement about No Officers being charged with her murder. Even the Kentucky's A.G. has stated "No Officers will be charged in her death." The only officer charged is Hankerson, for shooting into the neighbors home. Also, the 'original' police reports states: "No One was harmed." during the commission of the warrant. That's not taking responsibility for murdering her and a clear admission "NO ONE WAS HARMED." If that's not denying they shot her, then your issue is not with my FACTS, but that of the Louisville Police; I could also provide you other evidence and FACTS, to prove this, but that should be enough. If you watched the ABC 20/20 episode and other reports about this murder, you be informed they knew her 'ex-boyfriend' did not reside there, had no packages delivered there, and that he was arrested earlier that day, before the warrant was signed. All that says to me, they were at the wrong house.

In the willful blindness of the police, an Innocent woman was murdered.

Your willful blindness, is apart of the 'disregard' for Truth, in this country, and the excuses the goons use to continue terrorizing my community.

Because I Stand On Maa-t (Truth), is why I choose to ensure the evils doers face judgement day here on earth, because my life experience as an "Intelligent" person, says those who speak about judgement day, in the here after are the ones committing all the sins here on earth. The day I see proof such evil doers are punished during your judgement day, is the day I'll embrace that notion.

My current circumstance is due to evil people. who care not about judgement day. I have never turned away from their evil nor exercised willful blindness, therefore like Yeshua, they condemn me.
