

the modern domestic working class sovereignty & self determination movement started with the occupy wall street movement for social & economic reform, the current manifestation of this tendency is the antifascist movement for social revolution. the question is where to from here? black lives matter is a broad based movement for social/racial justice that has autonomous characteristics. the failure of the capitol hill occupied protest in seattle seems to be a gang/drug problem which can be overcome, there are efforts along these lines .

ongoing in portland, taken all together this is a broad grassroots way forward for social justice, i see my role in this as

Reply ID: wyvb

grassroots antiracism post for <http://betweenthebars.org/> blogs / 1491 /