

Poetry

there is a flickering light coming from the candles we made in our youth to guide us forever along paths we traveled in places we've never been a hundred times before 2/2/21
Steve Burkett