Hi,

Thank you for your generous comments. I always try to appeal to my best self before I post a blog. It's too easy to be petty and mean-spirited when writing to an anonymous audience. I usually write something and review it the next day before I post it. If it doesn't feel right, I alter it until it comes from a good place in my heart. I don't always succeed, but I try.

Stay safe, I'm getting my first vaccine shot tomorrow (I'm old so I'm eligible).

Harlan
