

Reply ID 9296

<http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/339/>

Feb. 23, 2021

Hey End Solitary, (Lisa)

So why'd you transcribe my handwritten letter all wrong, so that nobody can understand it?

At least you wanna end solitary.

So what I meant by holding my breath at low tide was: The water is/was around 11 feet shallower at low tide. I'd pick my spot. Put on my rubber suit, (they get stolen alot when you hang them outside to drip dry) sometimes I went with no suit - very cold. I had a ~~scuba~~ mask, snorkel, fins, weight belt, and inflatable vest, (buoyancy compensator). I swam along the surface in 10 feet of water, spotted a lobster, fish, surf clam, shiny object, ect. and held my breath as I plunged to get it. Surfacing, I blew the water out of the snorkel and resumed breathing thru it.

I don't have an out date - I have a parole eligibility date, (Oct. 24, 2024). I'm in the state of confusion - Massachusetts. My address is on almost every other page of my blogs space.

Did my latest watercolor pencil painting, "The Ship Chandler" get posted on here? Nice to hear from you!

J.-

James Riva W38533
OCCC
One Administration Rd.
Bridgewater, MA 02324