

"Mistress of the pointed euphemism." - Imogen Robertson, 'The Paris Winter'

Dear Readers,

Mon. 03-15-21

8:30p

Howdy! On C3PO I'm listening to Whitney Houston sing "I Will Always Love You." This is just a short post which I'd like to call "Oops! I f-ed up!" I'm working on a longer post which I'll send out soon.

I came across some scrap paper where I took some notes for a reply to "f" in England. In that post, I misquoted the name of the Abba song, "I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do." (I only wrote three "I Do's."). (FYI, I changed C3PO over to "I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do, I Do," by Abba).

I'd like to send out a HUGE apology and "shout out" to both the members of ABBA (wherever they are) + to "f" in England.

To ABBA:

I am so sorry for writing the name of your song incorrectly! It's not one I am as familiar with as many, many of your other songs. I do also love that song, & I bought it for my AP3.

(2)

Your songs make me want to sing & dance and they make me happy! Don't listen to "T." He means well, but ...

to "P"

Howdy! Oops! I got the song name wrong! I should have done some research first & I wouldn't have messed up. Of course, I know that you knew what I meant anyway.

I hope you & your family are happy & healthy and I hope you have a green beer for me on St. Pat's Day!

Take care of yourself & I hope to hear from you again.

Many Blessings,
