First & foremost, THANKS for transcribing my last post--eons ago. I just listened again to Kendrick's 1st CD--good kid, m.A.A d city--a few days ago. This CD so reminds me of my youth in L.A. Yeah, I'm familiar with some of Childish Gambino's work. esp "This is America." Before this (while he was on Community?) he had a video in which he was riding on a ferris wheel, do you remember the name of that song? We are SUPPOSE to have access to music streaming in a few months, so, hopefully, I will be able to check out more of his work. Saying that, pass on some more recommendations. :) Btw, I JUST received Jhene Aiko's Chombo, only half-way thru it, but so feeling this, esp. the Buddhist vibes.

Take care, & THANKS FOR THE SUPPORT
