

Poetry

5/9/21

I'm scared and alone
lost in a prison cell where four walls surround me stuck in my past memories finding myself trapped here in this worn out body where I'm too old to run back to my youth
before I built these walls of total emptiness
away from all love and laughter where the chase is over and everyone is gone
my biggest regrets
is the time I've wasted away from your heart 4/30/2021

Steno Burlett