

A Fresh Unity for all countries

I believe in my heart all countries can get their. If we really want to. How do you figure Jennifer this can happen with all the deception in the world. The evil things people continue to do. The mind is the key. We got to change our mindset. I been saying this from the begin. People in this ~~new~~ world from all walks of life has to stop this self entitlement and status quo. Me, me, me. I don't think that is a good ideal because it is not beneficial to your standards.

Get rid of deception; instead start contributing positive everywhere. A lot of people are doing that. On the other end there are some doing it to meet their ~~own~~ own gain. A lot of countries need liberation. When you can speak your truth without a penalty that is ~~oppression~~ oppression. I get if you steal a car your going to jail because it's not yours to take. But when laws are made to oppress the people in your country. That is not right. For example you cannot walk to that stop sign. I will change you.

I don't know if that is law. But I use it for example. Some governments need to be rebuilt up from the ground. There are other governments need to revamp their laws in the land. Everyone has to get on board of ~~the~~ they fresh unity which cause for new visions to come forth in the government, all countries and community (ies). My question I leave with you. As what are you compassionate about for 2021. What do you want to happen before this year out? What are you doing to accomplish that goal? Have you brainstorm your ideal? Have you brought it to others attention?

Written by:
Jennifer Johnson