A Gram of Knowledge from a time keeper & Torch of this here struggle /game called "life" .¥

Tagline : " The most of often repeated Fallacy of ghetto myth , is the lie that the game is to be sold and never told for free.¥

¥ Disclaimer : For the sake of brevity ,, we will allow the license of flow to accept that life , is game / a game to be played.
putting the philosophical reasons to the side why struggle is no game and when treated , the jejune will respect it and act accordingly ,, for this difference is part of the problem.

1.) I find my self repeatedly being asked the same question ,, " school why do you think the struggle is messed up " , my choice of words; so I set out to start a greater dialogue for those who are true seekers of knosis. (knowledge).

2.) In this paradigm I seek to elucidate on why the game/ fame should never be sold and when it is sold / told unrighteously, the greater society , even the buyer pays a heavier price eventually .

3.) The savant tells us that the struggle ,, or for the " uninitiated" , Game waits for no one, that Time waits for no one <".

game >time >equals struggle , LIFE.

4.) With in the same lesson he will tell you or confirm for you if challenge him on this , that there are scenarios in which you know that time & the game > struggle > life have stood < what maybe perceived of , standing still for some one to make their move.

5.) To the uninitiated , Perception / Deception are one and the same. because they are looking at a thing from a inferior prism . It is a unbreakable law of Nature that time will not stand still. it is our perception of time that change and make all things relative change as well.

6.) So you may ask , if you notice , How could the savant confirm that time has stood still for some while they make their master move in the game / struggle of life.

7.) The answer lie in the Maxim ,, time keeps on moving non-stop , Non-sport for all equally. The reason we have the venal perception that time has stopped or stood still is because those making the move have either cheated to get ahead or are so far ahead rightfully , that they have spare time to make error / mea coupé , and can regain , reorganized and reset before those watching catch on. and most want tell you this truth , because they themselves don't really under-stand it or they want the secret keys of life all to themselves. it is a leverage that they have over you and they don't want or need you thinking that in time , relatively from essence of things , we all are equal in time. yet paradoxically .

we are not.

8.) Lets look just a little more : Lets say we both started in the rap game at the same time. We had the same up bringing in the chi. sold and told the same dope, jokes. But you use to do a little extra when we were apart , and that little difference paid off once we got our shot at the game together. it did not help that some one did you a favor that they did not extend to me , why I did not see the difference ,, that person did and acted on it when extending that favor ...

quiet often it is the advance of knowledge and being initiated that make all the difference or open up more doors that increase the knowledge / aid & assistance that we need that those who seek to steal or poach on the struggle can not see. these things have to be learned and learned well . and because life is always moving forward or at a constant pace, we have to adjust and even change our perception and understanding of things. only wisdom can prepare us for this and its a on the job learning experience . It don't comes with a instruction manual , the manual is in pay dues to the struggle and learning , and keep learning from some one who also respect the struggle and paid their dues as well.

When you are a head , which means you are prepared, you can play the time game, and to the perception of some , even manipulate time to your advantage .

so Until this pen weeps again , let me move on for time waits for no one. Stay♣cus and Stay LO♥€™

The struggle continues .
