After more than half this life exiled to penal colonies, this is my world. Hence the purpose of my SPO ambition to help rehabilitate responsibility via corresponding ability to confront the obvious. This naturally includes rehabilitating SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS, both with criminal outcasts and citizens.

The current Criminal Justice Reform movement is doing much to impact legislation covering a wide range of concerns, yet here on the front line I'm concerned that the benefits of justice reform are doomed without first developing the social consciousness of prisoners before they're released to a society which convicted them as unworthy.

This would leave Criminal Justice Reform to those worthy champions in that arena, while the responsibility for developing the Social Consciousness of Prisoners is left for us all. My Scientology Prison Outreach has as its basic purpose — this PRISONER REFORM, and is fully secured by the U.S. Constitution (by virtue of the preamble: We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity...), and its First Amendment: "... no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech ..." This of course also insures our inalienable right to break the chains of religious bondage, as well (see the attached exhibits "1974 Court Order" and U.L.C. Vision), through this Ministry.

Do I have your full attention now? My 36+ yr. career in penal colonies permits me to recognize problems to address for the sake of eliciting co-operation in problem solving. After all, SPO's Prisoner Reform ambition is not the only Prisoner Reform ambition taking place in this countries penal colonies today. I've been observing the Psych. Industry usurping more and more control within the Department Of Corrections (DOC), over the years — helping prisoners develop identities as Mental Health Patients — and thus advocating and validating prisoners' irresponsibility. Is that the type of "reform" society prefers imposed upon prisoners? Rehabilitation is defined in my dictionary as, 2b: to restore or bring to a condition of health or useful and constructive activity. Which is taken from the word Habilitate [fr. L. habilitas - ability] 1: to make fit or capable.

Why in the world would tax payers prefer to disable criminal nature, not with Education or Vocational Training, but rather by introducing sympathy toward a criminals irresponsibility — and thereby permitting sympathy computations^① forever after — which provides job security to all the Psych. Industry proponents?!

Vocational Training Shops have long ago been subverted by the flourishing Psych. Industry in Prisons. A Psych Industry which apparently prefers to medicate instead of rehabilitate prisoners. The saddest thing I've observed in the past decade or two, has been that after subverting the Vocational Training Shops for Psych Office space, they went on to subvert entire Housing Units — designating them as Psych Units (Enhance Out-Patient housing units) — and built on their own cinder block Medication Dispensaries to secure that real estate.

I wish that someone would research the exponential surge in the number of Psych Patients/Professionals — and the corresponding budget — over the past two decades, in the Dept. Of Corrections. Please share that data here for the rest of us to see for ourselves.

Why would tax payers prefer to disable criminal nature, not with Education or Vocational Training, but rather by introducing sympathy toward a criminals irresponsibility — thereby permitting "sympathy computations" forever after?!

SYMPATHY COMPUTATION^① if a patient had a tough engramic background, then broke his leg and got sympathy, he thereafter tends to go around with a simulated broken leg — arthritis, etc. etc. This is the sympathy computation. It makes a patient "want to be sick." Sickness has a high survival value says the reactive mind. So it tailors up a body to be sick.

Thus excusing irresponsibility by fostering mental health problems which both justifies and motivates the symbiotic relationship between psych industry professionals and patients. This is the future of — well, it's the potential future society, if we fail to consider the history of the psych industry!*

Most recently the psych industry proponents ushered in a ISUDT program catering to drug addicts (2019?), whether they've been in prison 30-days or 30-years. The "Treatment Model" (p.2) propounds to provide "complete rehabilitative support for patients to successfully return to their communities", yet in the past 18 months there's nothing to ISUDT (Integrated Substance Use Disorder Treatment) except increasing numbers of patients standing in line for their Synthetic opiate (Suboxone) strip. The (attached) Magazine of puzzles and artwork contributions serve as "Cognitive Behavior Intervention (CBI), apparently... developing an agreed upon reality. And as for the remaining "rehabilitative support", i.e. Comprehensive pre-release planning; Career readiness; social support; Integrated care teams; Supportive housing; Other rehabilitative programming. It looks good in print - but there is no such support, as I said, beyond the Medication Assisted Treatment (Suboxone) Keeping "patients" addicted - and "pliable".

All the while, Ernestyna Eichenlaub, a Volunteer Minister from Clearwater, FL., provides truly rehabilitative courses to prisoners, stemming from the Scientology Prison Outreach. Readers of this blog may visit <http://course.volunteerministers.org>, to peruse these courses, or you may alert other prisoners to express interest in those courses by writing Volunteer Ministers, 101 N. Ft. Harrison Ave. Clearwater, FL. 33755, Attention: Ernestyna Eichenlaub - VM.

Tax-payers should be shocked to learn they're financing a Psych Industry promoting a future of Psych patients, instead of financing true re-habilitation, with actual scientific curriculum/higher education/vocational training. Social Consciousness will either stem from the former or the latter. Either based upon how to help - or be helped (sic).

The future looks to depend on our own individual responsibility^② or failing that, upon the psych industry. My aim is to assist the individual responsibility. Please join with me and agree: Something CAN Be Done About It! For the Love of Truth.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,)

Civil No. S-1954

ORDER

"From the Findings of Fact, the Court concludes, as a matter of law, that the plaintiff should prevail. Certainly, one seeking a tax exemption has the burden of establishing his right to a tax-exempt status. An organization qualifies for an exemption under 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c) (3) only if it is 'organized and operated exclusively for religious purposes.* * *' In the defendant's Memorandum in Support of its requested Instructions, filed February 28, 1973, 'the Government admits that the plaintiff passes the 'organizational' test."

"The Court must then address itself to the defendant's second conclusion: that the ordination of ministers, the granting of church charters and the issuance of Honorary Doctor of Divinity certificates by the plaintiff are substantial activities which do not further any religious purpose. Certainly the ordination of ministers and the chartering of churches are accepted activities of religious organizations. The defendant impliedly admits the same on Page 5 of its Memorandum in Support of its Requested Instructions. The fact that the plaintiff distributed ministers credentials and Honorary Doctor of Divinity certificates is of no moment. Such activity may be analogized to mass conversions at a typical revival or religious crusade. Neither this Court, nor any branch of this Government, will consider the merits or fallacies of a religion. Nor will the Court compare the beliefs, dogmas, and practices of a newly organized religion with those of an older, more established religion. Nor will the Court praise or condemn a religion, however excellent or fanatical or preposterous it may seem. Were the Court to do so, it would impinge upon the guarantees of the First Amendment..."

"IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the plaintiff be and is entitled to a Federal Tax Exemption and to a refund of all monies levied against by the defendant with interest thereon from the date of levy, March 19, 1970."

"IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the defendant's counterclaim be and is dismissed and the plaintiff is entitled to recover the reasonable costs of the suit herein."

"IT IS ALSO ORDERED that the plaintiff submit and appropriate judgment in accordance herewith."

"Done and dated this 27th day of February, 1974."

My vision ...

...yesterday

I have had a vision since my childhood, and have spent my life searching this country for that vision. At one time I believed that I would be a comedian; I, also, thought of being a lawyer, but I had no education; I always wanted to be a preacher, and that is what I am. I have joined many organizations and have studied many things during my lifetime, but it wasn't until 1958 that I began to understand the vision. The vision is to release people from religious bondage. I've realized that this is almost impossible, but in 1962 I incorporated the Universal Life Church, a church to break the chains of religious bondage. From that moment forward I have never doubted or questioned my vision of the Universal Life Church. We sewed the seeds for freedom in the 60's, we cultivated them through the 70's, and the time is ripe to reap our harvest of freedom (the vision) in the 80's!

My vision ...

...today

We understand the vision, religious freedom; we have the vehicle to attain this freedom, the Universal Life Church; we must begin to teach people who they are. Religion does not make people free, it only binds them down. Politics does not set people free, it only ties them down. The only way to set people free is to awaken their consciousness to the fact that they are born free. We must show mankind who God is, where God is, and what God is. We must teach mankind that this planet, Earth, belongs to us, all people, and that we must set up a kingdom of peace, joy, and love; the Kingdom of Man.

SO WHAT IS WHOLE PERSON CARE?

ISUDT focuses on Whole Person Care specific to each patient's needs. Once a person's addiction (cravings) are stabilized, CBI and treatment for other mental health disorders can be better received. Every journey is different. Whole Person Care combines health, personal wellness, and social services. This treatment model provides complete rehabilitative support for patients to successfully return to their communities. This includes emphasis on:

Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT)

Social support

Cognitive Behavioral Interventions (CBI)

Integrated care teams

Comprehensive pre-release planning

Supportive Housing

Career readiness

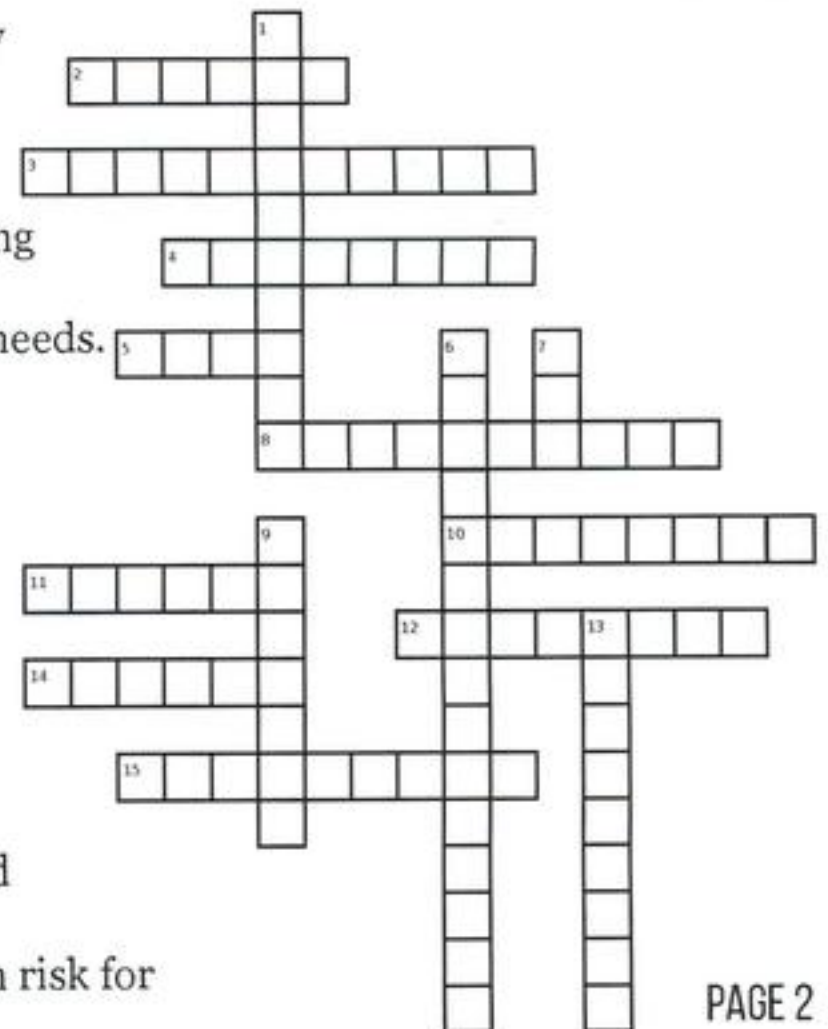

Other rehabilitative programming

Doctor's Note

“Whole Person Care” ~ By R. Corey Waller MD

Dr. Waller is a nationally recognized addiction expert. Here is what he has to say about the term “Whole Person Care.”

Whenever I hear the term “whole person care,” it concerns me. It seems to me that the term “care” should have always meant whole person care. But after 20+ years in healthcare, I realized that if you don’t say it specifically, it doesn’t happen.

To an orthopedic surgeon, you are an ankle surgery, to a cardiologist, a heart cath, and to an ER doc, a belly pain. Interestingly this concept has been around about a half-century, and we are only now getting around to implementing it.

So, my advice, take advantage of it. Let your health care worker have it, with all the gritty details. What sucks, why your life is hard, how your reality affects your medical care.

It is well documented that if someone has depression, anxiety, poverty, or any other negative impact on life (I could fill this whole document with examples), their medical condition is harder to treat.

So make us live up to the term we want to use and lay it out there. Don’t let us push you off or walk out the door without having your “whole” person addressed.

Advocate for yourself; make us change how we care for you. After all, it is whole person care, not whole provider care.

4 TIPS TO ASK FOR HELP (AND GET A YES)

Learning how to ask for (and accept) help is maybe one of the greatest skills you can develop. New research shows that asking for and actually getting help is a lot easier and less scary than it seems.

But first, let's look at why we don't ask for help.

Why Is Asking for Help So Hard?

The main reason is fear. We fear that we will be turned down, laughed at, or embarrassed. Most people hate asking for help because of risks such as:

- being rejected,
- feeling weak,
- having others think less of you,
- fear of giving up control.

Another reason why asking for help seems so hard is that we are not great at stating our needs in a way that someone can offer help. This is partly due to the belief that our feelings, thoughts, and needs are obvious to other people. Too often, we wait for someone to notice our need for help. We then get frustrated when no one helps.

In order to receive help, you often have to ask for it. But the best way to get more comfortable asking for help is to practice asking for help.

Adapted from Psychology Today: 4
Tips to Effectively Ask for Help—and Get a Yes.

Here are some simple tips to enable you to ask for the help you need and ensure that you get a yes in response to your request.

1. Be brief and specific. Asking for and offering help can only work when there is clear communication. Try to communicate your request as clearly and briefly as possible. There is no need to over-explain. Simply describe what the task is, why it matters, and how the person you are asking can help. Try to be as specific as possible so they know exactly what it is you are asking them to do, as well as how long it will take and how much energy the task will take. Be willing to negotiate. Let them decide how much support they can offer and try to find a common ground.

2. Do not apologize. Do not apologize for asking for help. We all need help sometimes and it is nothing to be ashamed of. Apologizing makes it seem like you are doing something wrong by asking for help. It can also make your request appear negative. Also do not downplay your need for help with phrases like: "I hate to ask," or "It's just a small thing." After all, how am I supposed to feel if you "hate to ask" for my help? Do not ask them to do you a favor. This can make people feel like they have to say yes.

More Tips to Ask for Help Pg 5

Finally, do not focus on what you can, or will, give them for helping you. While we tend to think that offering someone something in return of a favor is a good plan, this makes your request feel like business and not a personal interaction. People do not like feeling like they owe others, and others are more likely to help you if you show genuine thankfulness for their help.

Next time you think you need some help, remember that there are more people than you think who are willing to help you. Try to use these suggestions to ask for help in a way that empowers you and the person you're asking for help. Together you can achieve your goals.

This program is a blessing. Without it I would probably be dead over an overdose. For many years I fought the dragon and lost each time I faced temptation. With the strip, I'm on the winning side, not caving into those temptations.

Now I'm filled with so much hope, striving each day to earn my second chance in society and become a prominent figure outside.

Thank you so much for coming

My addiction had been my affliction, you see? Nobody, nobody knew the real me.

I used every day, I used every night. Nobody could stop me, let alone...Despite, ever got a word in - to me, about sobriety

... ISUDT turned out to be the key for me, entirely. I'm so thankful that I finally got help, God knows, I couldn't do it for myself.

So here is a poem, a set of words that rhyme, to let you know that you should take the time.

Accept the help. Do it for yourself. You may find the answers, instead of going through hell.
