

What is the moral here?

Sometimes the wrong rationalization will hurt you. Look how many people dying from Omicron and covid-19 because they don't want to mask up or get vaccinated in the rationalizations, when it comes to you staying alive. There shouldn't be no rationalization. If so you're a foolish person. All the foolish people without moral concerning their own health and the other people health around them. Are the ones out there marching against mask mandates as well vaccine mandates. Any judge that would knock these orders down is foolish. Because what you saying you don't care about the next person health. The very ones that don't mask up or get vaccinated is putting themselves, family, and neighbors in ~~jeopardy~~ jeopardy to die or get sick from covid 19 or omicron. Law tired of people acting the damn fool on these planes and in the public because they don't give a damn about themselves or anybody else health. I agree with ~~various~~ vaccine and mask mandate because some people don't have morals to do the right thing. Because they judgment is blurred. I am tired of covid-19 and omicron. But if you want things to change you got to be part of the change to happen. I have asthma. ~~That~~ I took all two shot including my booster. Because I want to live. I don't want to cause no one else die from a illness because of I help + boosted. I wear double mask daily. All these people who has not been vaccinated and boosted needs to get their behinds in line get it done. Covid-19 and omicron is not playing. Stop ~~be~~ being foolish and rationalizing in the wrong way.

Put the freaking mask on it's not going to kill you. What is going to kill you is the covid-19 and omicron. Stop ~~being~~ being selfish. Think about others. Like the innocent children who is dying from it. We got to get our children, and anybody who is eligible for the booster and vaccine in these lines. Once again people stop the damn foolishness go get the needles in the arm. WEAR your mask.
