

W I N D O W   O F   O P P O R T U N I T Y

Imagine owing a prison , having been a prisoner for decades, I'd like to own a slave plantation/prison; prison; you know the abused evolves into to the abuser. Seriously, there is so much that can be done here and so many intelligent, thirsty minds searching for an understanding of their lives, its shortcoming and possibilities. My internment in what is suppose to be a segregated prison(1992), Perry, Arizona; I have managed to violate nearly every social norm in this subcultures of subcultures. I sit and eat at any available table where there is an empty chair. It is like the sixties Civil Rights Era revisited and I am in righteous outrage and indignation; reminded of my days of picketing, marching, boycotting and force integrating housing by sending in one of my many soldiers (blond white females) to rent a house or apartment in my name; and once the lease is signed I show up and stared down the shock faces of the landlord. Then as is now others are inspired by a man of courage.

When I sit down at the so-called segregated table in the chow hall, I hastily snatch off my sunglasses so all can witness the fire commitment and determination in my eyes and to know I AM A MAN OF COURAGE. As quickly as there is shock and disbelief, there is a calm recognition and acceptance. I am simply not to be denied! Make no mistake, I am neither a tough guy or a bully; simply not a Coward.nor am I impressed or intimidated by racist bullies. The defacto law here in the Arizona prisons/plantations The defactor law here is that prisoners are suppose to sit in the established ethnic racially designated seating areas. Of course we have the black, white, brown, red and yellow sections; and even an other section for those racially confused who don't fit in any of the other racial categories.

I once watched an eighty-year old blackman having to stand up with tray in hand awaiting an available seating in the black section. As an ohio prisoner having survived over a decade in a racially integrated prison(Columbus, ohio); a Cleveland Black Nationalist and a seventies California Black Panther; I was simply not about to stand with food tray in hand eating awaiting an opening in the Black section area; while there were seating available in other racially designated areas.

Routinely, I inquire of the so-called "White Priders", "White Power", "Aryan Brotherhood" members and the "Nazi Cross" members. The white guys are usually eager to explain their philosophy and beliefs at great lengths those who are well-verse in their cause are genuinely sincere. And in one of my classes I have counseled a few "White Priders" about what it truly means to have White Pride of their race and not just some racial hate group.

It has been said that you cannot be for yourself without being AGAINST someone else; not so. nevertheless, even in competing interest there is and can be mutual sharing. Otherwise, one still comes away realizing that this type of race based pride reflects more of an ignorance of self-worth and lack of self-esteem than race-pride. Still race as we all know it is an inmate characteristic, undeserving and not deserving of pride or accolades of any sort. Actually, I get along very well with admitted racist; we both know where we stand with each other and it is in that understanding, that lies a solid foundation with which to build upon.

Sometimes some of the aryan guys will tell me that it is funny, but they are able to talk to me with ease. Maily, because most blacks-prisoners won't or don't take the time to listen to "White-Priders'" political point of view of racial segregation. I tell them I too am a separatist, simply not a racial-separatist; I am a Black Nationalist; that many of my former girlfriends were white; and I have several beautiful mulatto children. Obviously, my statement presents a conundrum, a contradiction, by my usage of the phrase "Black Nationalist"; obviously, my usage of a separatist has a different meaning and connotation than that which is so commonly used. It is clear, convincing and overwhelming that racism in an of itself is not only illogical, it is untenable, a guy thang, a penis wagging, power play. An absolute, cowardly unnecessary primitive ritual.

Of course it is necessary to speak the lexicon of those whom you would influence or teach and that is not being dishonest. If communication is the goal than judgment must be laid aside. In fact there are some merits to racism, therefore the concept shouldn't be summarily dismissed, simply not advocated and embraced. I fully understand the incessant need of an individual to seek power and to be recognized for same; albeit again race is an innate characteristic not worthy or deserving or recognition per se; you had no choice in what ethnic group you were born into, it wasn't your doing/

Then some idiot B-rated T.v., actor decades ago spouting off his script lines "If you can't do the time than don't do the crime." ; since that childish, idiotic phrase has become the religious-mantra, propaganda slogan of the fascist right0wing extremist, prison guards and law-enforcement agents, to rationalize and justify their ripping-off of the stupid taxpayers living off of the public dole feeding trough. Remarkabl in poetic justice, Blakely, the simple-minded T.V., actor who publicly coinded that script phrase has been caught up in his own slogan and arrested, charged with murder, hopefully he'll do the time since he did the crime. Similarly, when I am suing the prison guards, I tell them "If you can't pay the fine than don't do the crimes against prisoners."

Neverthe;ess, if that jaded cliché were true, do the crime do the time script-line then we need all surrender ourselves to the nearest jail, include those in the White House and the State House. All humans regularly and rountinely commit so-called error, obviously some more grievous and bigger than others. But to dehumanize and stripped that person of his dignity is a far worst crime of inhumane treatment. The state employees with its prison-for-profit, neo-slavery, commercial concentration Camps are rountinely and regularly committing "DOMESTIC WAR CRIMES" WITH THE Blessing of a sheeply cowardly gullible ameri-KKKan public.

To fight crime with crime may be effective, besides being an oxy-moron; albeit, it makes it patently clear that there is no difference between the law giver and the so-called law breaker.

There are such beautiful people here. I cannot identify a so-called "criminal" even when I know exactly what crimes that an individual has committed. As the Chief Law Clerk on an ohio slave-plantation/prison for nearly a decade, I have read many unimaginable heinous act that someone has committed and yet, I do not feel the criminal person's persona of that prisoner. Generally, what I "feel" is a confused, scared, hurting individual. Each day as I teach, I am further gratified and enriched The search for truth ends when the questioning ceases. It is my purpose to teach "Ulitarian Enlightenment". Enough of this hocus pocus, child-like enlightenment of those sitting around spouting esoteric scriptures of the masters of old. The continued test of enlightenment, if indeed one is needed, is the fruits of the tree and if your fruits are rotten or non-existing, than so is the enlightenment. I would move all towards clarity, that is to say exactly what it is you mean. There lies no universal truth of right or wrong and those who have been afraid to speak, I urge you to speak, for knowledge is there, even when you do not

If you cannot deal with one of another racial-group than how possibly deal with themselves when in all sooth and reality the other is no different than you and; in reality there is only one human race, that is the human race.

Power and knowledge is synonmous in application, only a fool would not understand that he cannot utlize his knowledge without the power to implement it useage. I have said it is not a contradiction to become wha you seek to destroy. I would add that it is generally power without knowledge that has produced the world's illls and its destructive results. No one would question the President's usage of Power to effectuate the and implement his planned course of actions. The need for power in any situation is an absolute prerequisite if one is to effectively deliver his message and I am committed to that deliverance. It is not my responsibility to question myself. once a decision has been made. Quest-ions must come before a decision to act and during the decision making process and not afterwards. Hence, you should only question yourself in rare, exigent change of circumstances; procrastination and untimelynes has been the folly of many all during the agess. If you continue to question yourself while trying to deliver, you'll become divided and you'll be a mess and so will your actions.

Societal standards and morals are both a hypocrisy and corrupt, if that were not so society would indeed act on this window of opportunit to reeducate as in deprogramming and treating this captive audience of prisoners for the betterment of us all.

It baffles and rapes the intelligents/conscious to know that fami-lies and friends routinely abandon their friends and loved ones in these commercial concentration camps. This is the measure of our humanity of our so-called pseudo-civilization society, its barbarism, how to treats its hated, dispised, disfavored, disadvantaged and defenseless. I don't think committing an error is grounds for extermination and ban-ishment from the human race until death comes and saves you.; and that is exactly what occurs to many black slaves on these slave plantations. a blackman is nanished in these concrete and steel tombs until some state actor in their greed and hypocrisy elects to release that wounded and tortures person far-far worst off than when he was first interned.

yet understand it. You cannot forever quote the obsolete, jaded, failed ideology of others by their alleged accomplishments.

This renewed era of enlightenment demands that all <sup>supreme</sup> speak and <sup>now</sup> remain silent. The concept of <sup>supreme</sup> leader or a savior is foolish as reality and history now so vividly reveals. Do not be afraid and do not be intimidated, every one of us has the seed of enlightenment and you need only allow it to grow and it grows inclusively by the friction of dropping all security. You must enter the fires of life if one is to be tried and trued. There are some of you who would rather sit back and trade the names of books (borrowed knowledge) than to produce and tap into your own wellspring of infinite knowledge.

I tell you, let the dead teach the dead and let us begin anew.

Prisoners, live in a debilitation crisis state, like maggots on a dead animal. There are so many agendazed, so-called do-gooders, religious visitors to the prison, hawking and recruiting for their dead masters; spewing the same dead, failed ideology that was indoctrinated into them. What I would teach is like an explosion, hammering and beating without mercy. Think for yourself, wake-up and experience life in its rawness without coloration. Once an individual is awakened and has begun to think for his or herself, you cannot return with the same failed teachings of others. Our greatest crime is that we are mentally lazy and we don't want to reason out our experiences for ourselves. I will not allow you to remain around me asleep, for not only will I challenge your failed ideology, I will challenge even your birthright. Do not tell me that you're white, that you are an ameri-KKKan, that one of the particulars religion, when all those are given and/or accidents of birth, birth place, family, cultural, etc; none are yours personally accomplishments or realization owing to you.

We must all stop with this foolishness. Those who are calm and courage enough to withstand the full blast of my persons come away renewed and stronger than they have ever imagined. I challenged one religious zealot to being his god before me in order that us two masters could commune. His response: "I know what you are saying to be the truth but I am afraid, afraid even to listen to you or even to stand next to you." I feel what you are saying and I can tell you those who have just a little courage absorbing my energy and growing stronger each and every day in authentic spiritual awareness and psychological growth. As I faced down the failed traditionalism of the past; I am of a mind to think that the masters that came before me were sorely lacking in understanding and this is indeed a feeling that ~~xxxxxxx~~ we should all have arrived at; as it will be and should be for those whp follow me will/should make the same observation about what it is that I am teaching today; there is no permanency, we are all evolving and progressing. How mant time have you hear a man say I want more for my children than I had and; I want my children to be and do more than I accomplished.. The road is upwards and onwards. Undoubtly, the masters of old were doing the very best they could even if they were doing their worst. Obviously these great masters ~~were~~ of old were doing the very best that they could during that time-period and; of course we now have the advantage of hindsight of their teachings.

~~Enlightenment and unenlightenment~~ The enlightened and unenlightened ar flipsides of the same coin. A highly intelligent person can speak some of the most unintelligent things. That is the natural order of the whol that is the balance. Life is never the ends, it is the near. The beauty of life lies in the process of the objective and not its ends. By the very definition of the words "The End". there can be beauty. no joy and no gratification. Love is indeed the ultimate enlightenment! We are on people, one humanity and it is time that we either teach the other or bear with them. I have choosen to teach. The fate of the other will eventually be visited upon us all, as each day we read or see rampart c crime, ~~xxxxxxx~~ wars, religious and race hatred. None of us will be safe unless sll of us are safe. I personally shall not surrender this paradise/earth to ignorance. There are so many of us that none of us should ever be alone or hurting.
