Dear DietDrPepper,

Please excuse my lapse of time. However, I didn't get the feedback I had expected after putting THOSE chapters on my blog. So I figured, Why continue? I know in my case, I need to know that I'm being somewhat of an entertainer to my audience, or I'll just slack off. So thank you very much for the feedback I was in need of.

I'll throw on a chapter that shares with you the experience of going from the county jail to prison. The vast majority of prisoners describe this experience one way, but (as you've already noticed) I see things from a different perspective. Anyway, I definitely hope you'll enjoy it. And PLEASE, do not hesitate to give me any kind of feedback -- positive OR negative. Unfortunately, I'm going to have to send it by way of snail mail, because of some difficulties we experienced with the memory of our tablets. So keep an open eye for any -- You Got Mail -- messages.

So, clue me in. Am I communicating with a male or female? Old or young? American or foreigner? And of course. . . Why the heck would you want to communicate with a prisoner in the first place?

I really hope to hear back from you soon, and thanks again for your comments. Sorry for the delay, but I experienced some problems due to a misunderstanding here at this camping. Hopefully they got their stuff straight
