

"Locks as in smoked salmon"

~ Samuel L.
Jackson's Character
in the King's men

Now I know what the "L" stands for in Samuel L. Jackson; it stands for "Loser."

What do locks have to do with smoked salmon?

Well, I, James Harmon, ate some smoked salmon, and now I'm locked up.
Get it, ha!

Colin Firth: you are an ass-hat;
and those are not required at Ascot.

Is this the first time there's ever been inflation in America?

How come no other President thought to pass something called the Inflation Reduction Act?

Could it be that the IRA is not really about reducing inflation at all?
