

A Love Loving Lovely

*Line From: "When Our Two Souls" by Elizabeth Barrett Browning

I. To speak as spoke!, no one else to-date -
What to surrender as Hallmark to Love? -

* To drop some golden orb of perfect Fate
And relate how Heart embraces Eve -
To Adam - a Love loving lovely fit
Exemplary as Silk against Skin
Loves self-poetry-in-motion - She's it!,
I can't deny: "I love her" and this pins.

II. Whenever I get a wife - may she be Like thee! (Thee to which I'd stern commit,
If ever!, Love commit - I know you'd be
"She!" of no displeasure. Within the Heart sits
A Queen at thy table treated bestest, as best God bid Love to love thee mostest -

#2/20/22 Wm. Irving

William Irving * 182908

Digital Mail Center - Missouri Doc

P.O. Box 25678

Tampa, FL. 33622-5678