Dear Outside World, April 9, 2023

Can someone please tell me, what the hell is going on? Another police shooting of an young human-being, and another mass school shooting. This may sound crazy coming from someone incarcerated and who believes in the abolitionment of prisons. But I feel safer inside the belly of the beast (prison), then people must be feeling out there in the so-called free society. Why is that?

Over the years politicians from both sides (Left/Right) have pushed tough on crime policies that say prisons will keep society safer with more human-beings behind bars. But can you honestly say that you feel safer with more prisons and human-beings behind bars?

It is time that we stop listening to the politicians whom do not have our best interest at heart because their only interest is maintaining the current status quo of a capitalist-imperialist system that is not design to truly meet the needs of the people. Prisons keeping society safer is not the solution to society problems that is causing so much pain, hardship and suffering.

Until we as a society and human-race address the real cause of our problems such as poverty, racism, mistreatment of women, inequality, sexism, etc. We will never feel safer.
