Reply I'd :6gvg. Hi Alberto, Yeah! I think that would be way cool to learn a little about you and your country.

I have heard a lot of positive things about your countries history and the leadership it provides in the world.

I am 62 years old now.

I have been in prison since 1990.

I know that seems like its a long time and it is.

Its kind of weird that others can read our conversations but who knows maybe some one wants to join our conversation as well.

Maybe if we get lucky some one from Japan would like to talk with us right? I have always been a big fan of Japanese people and their culture.

I do think that our people here do not really see how blessed they are as a people.

Too many are out for them selves.

Yeah! There's a little bit too much selfishness.

Well I look forward to our next conversation.

JC.
