

Hi Adriena,

Your comment, in reply to my post lands so contradictory.

- #1. Your name is Adriena,
- #2. You state that you are a transwoman,
- #3. You signed off as Aztec Queen.

That tells me that you are clinically, psychologically, spiritually, and sexually, a female. It means that the so-called Abomination verses in text don't apply to you, for you are not a man laying with men as if a woman, and you are not a man dressed in female clothing.

If you was in a California Prison, you would be diagnosed as having "Gender Dysphoria" which is a medical and mental disorder in the minds of those that disrespect your nature in the name of the need to make you, abnormal.

That same method was attempted on homosexual people in this country, but it was a horrible fail because my amazing survivors, in my homosexual family fought and some died, so my generation would not experience the horror. (See PBS Documentary, The Cure).

You stated

"God has been referred to as a hateful God but that is coming from people who are hiding their own sins".

When you read my past Direct Message, the so-called sin in question is homosexuality, and in context, your comment is not only off base, but it's also flat out wrong, and here's why.

I want to say to all Transgender Youth in the world, you are loved, you are natural, you are amazing, and thank you for standing up against hate, especially right now with the many Anti-Trans laws in America.

Adriel, the transwoman / Aztec / Christian who's God is Hebrew don't represent the views of all of you, and have obviously been conditioned to believe what the so-called bible University and fellow believers in Christ has taught her.

To Gay Youth in society and in custody, I want you to understand that all transgender people don't believe homosexuality is a sin, and that you require the forgiveness of a Hebrew God. Transpeople love Gays too.

"When Marginalized people, Marginalize other Marginalized people, there is nothing left to read between the Margins" - Porolloxbei

The ATANDE Press Zines, and The Sound Mind Streamer Media Group provides Affirming Content for all Queer inmates in prison, we love our people who are also religious and spiritual in all faiths, but we do not tolerate disrespect, we provide a safe place to land for those of us that knew our nature, and will call out any form of hatred.

To all Queer Elders, don't give up on Queer Youth, they got this, and to all straight Allie's, Thank you for holding us up, our program is thriving because of you, I'm shocked by the progress, and we will never give up on our sisters like Adriena.

Homosexuality is a natural phenomenon like everything else.

Homination means hate, and other unfavorable words, Moses is credited as the writer of these first five books in the Bible, and Moses said he got all of that from his God, The God of the Hebrews, not the God of the Aztecs.

I wrote Direct Message in direct response to the Release of a statement made by a collective of Religious Organizations, and you defend the very God and source of hatred towards Gay people, and you yourself used the word sin in context.

You said you create a transwoman, not a homosexual. I'm a Gay Man, I'm not experiencing gender dysphoria, and I've never struggled with my sexual identity, so how do you report telling me that your God is very forgiving? Forgive me for what? Oh, yeah, I almost forgot, the sin of homosexuality.

You are an Aztec Queen? Who worships a Hebrew God? You are a Transwoman using words like "Forgiving" and "Sin" in social media in response to a Gay man opposing pretexual insultive language by the Religious community against gay people.

You say how good your God has been to you and how you obviously talk to the God of Hate that you study? You are so fortunate I am no Aztec.

So I will repeat, "Ignorance is Our Enemy" not each other.

Speaking of ignorance, You wrote in my other post
 @ June 30, 2023 Titled Incarcerated LGBTQIA+,

(after a short poor history lesson)

"What brings hardship "to Our Community", is how there is those who call themselves our Mothers and Sisters that go out of their way to force recognition, which in my book is wrong. Live our lives to the fullest with respect for self will get results. That's why we now have LGBTQIA+ in Congress, Senate, and even more mayors and pastors. As long as we live our lives as any other, we will overcome every obstacle that comes our way when we stay together!!

Adriena, are You Smoking Cream? Forced recognition? You just wrote that on social media, and disrespected every Queer Freedom fighter that demanded an end to discrimination, abuse, and the right to be treated with equal human dignity, ask anyone you named how they got into office, do your study and research on our own history before you jump out here on social media sounding ignorant ethnographically.

People hate no matter if you act an ass or act with dignity, ask Two Spirit people with strong medicine, African slaves, Latinos, and Farm workers, you are not able to live like your incredible Trans natural self right now because you live with respect of yourself, are you serious? People was beaten, and killed, and jailed, and worked to fight inside the Education, religious, Political and all social sectors of society, so that our generation wouldn't be forced out of human dignity. Forced exclusion is wrong, your degree of ignorance is evidence that our youth need to be more aware of those like you who believe our hardship is a self-inflicted wound. WOW! Yet, we still love you as family.

To Adrielena, We Love, I say this to You. WAKE UP!
 go to your computer and delete your comment because the world is reading what you wrote, and you are misrepresenting transpersons, and you put your own personal self in the middle of a very disrespectful position by religious leaders who continue to discriminate against gay people.

Hate is Hate, and The bible says things about the word Abomination as it applies to gay people, that Adrielena can't delete.

In every translation and version, no matter what you believe, you have no favor, power, or authority to demand that hate speech to be stricken from the Bible, and until you can stand up for humanity, and against hate, regardless the source, you are absolutely a part of the problem.

Now, go to the websites of the Haters and comment there and demand they reverse course, or the next time you talk to your Hebrew God, ask about your Aztec ancestors, comeback and post what God says about them, don't forget to let us know what they say about that God, or do you talk to Aztec Gods too?

Get off social media with bullshit, and come help us care for all queer people. Get off social media so you don't get yourself in any trouble, delete now, cancel yourself.

Show up correct, you get to choose what my next words will be.
