ANOINTED PENTAGRAM:

HUMAN WELLNESS

by, Parallaxboi

Penta, Pentagon, Pentagram, and Pentateuch etc, are words associated with the Greek dialect meaning the number FIVE.

For many year's the word PENTAGRAM had no negative connotative attachments until the spread of religious need's for adversarial entities for a god who by default created his own enemy/problem.

Good v. Evil depictions of so-called spiritual warfare.

But the symbol of the five pointed star was formerly a medical/wellness symbol used by people who associated the pentacle to represent the human body;

HEAD

ARM ARM

LEG LEG

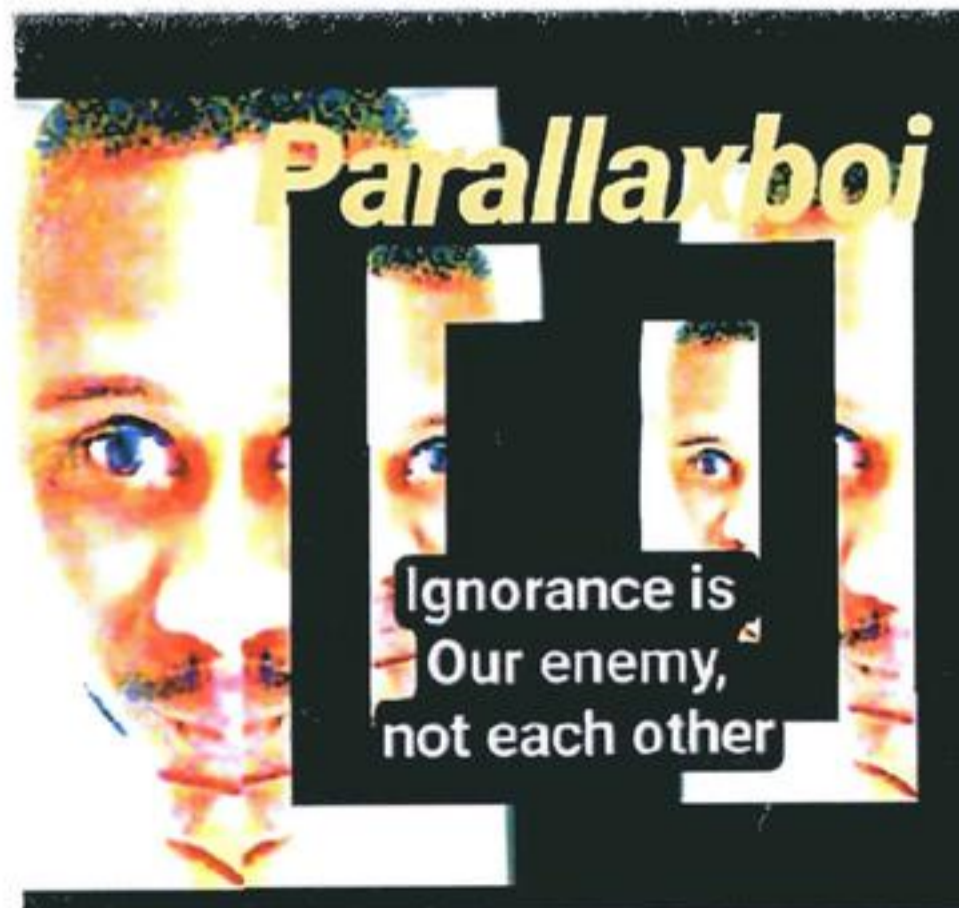

As shamanism, indigenous healer's, medicine men/women morphed into witch craft by religious Zealot's, medical science was also demonized, and punished by death in some countries, even a disciple of Jesus named Luke, was referred to as a physician, and so the pentacle symbol was widely known as something for wellness, and not occulting.

One example is, the amazing recent discovery of our front line medical science warrior's, of Pentamidine.

pentamidine -(pent-am-i-dine)-a drug used chiefly in the form of its salt
C23, H36, N4, O10, S2 especially to treat protozoal infections
(as leishaniasis), and to prevent AIDS related pneumonia.

Some of us who understand that we expose ignorance of our oppressors, through our use of the pentacle, because its difficult for the brains of the brain dirtied to unbelieve misinformation that was induced to create fear/phobias so to prevent the human engagement to fight against agents and ailments that end life, as fear causes numbness, non compassion, supremacy, and selfishness survival psychological distortion within our species.

We use the word Anointed as an amplifier of healing and wellness of all humans, there is a growing need for people to self appoint as wellness providers, especially in incarcerated environments, because all we truly have is the outreached hands of each other.

A PARALLAX VIEW OF JUDAISM:

JEALOUS OF WHAT?

By, Parallaxboi

The story of Moses is evidence that while Moses was being raised in Egypt, the education center of the world in those days, stood the ideational monotheism from Pharaoh Akenaten, the husband of Nefertiti, and father of the young boy King Tut.

(Thy shalt not steal):

Moses knew that King Tut ordered all of his fathers images of the God Aten, and the city dedicated to the original monotheistic deity destroyed, and reestablished the ancient polytheism religion.

(Thy shalt not kill):

Moses was also a murderer, of an Egyptian who was beating a Hebrew, for which Moses fled and became a fugitive.

(Thy shalt not commit adultery):

Moses is recorded as having a wife and family before he fled Egypt, and yet is recorded as marrying another women and having more children with her while he was on the run.

(Thou shalt not bear false witness):

Moses, being well educated by the very nature of the environment he was raised in, went up into the the mountain and carved out the ten commandments himself, broke them, and rewrote them with no second fiery embellished episode. It is important to note here that it is said Moses had some sort if speech impediment, and needed Aaron as a translator. Yet, after reading this tale, it can be likely that Moses had no speech impediment, he could not sleek Hebrew as he was raised Egyptian, not Hebrew, and Aaron a Hebrew and also in Egyptian bondage was merely a translator/interpreter of language's for the oral and written communication between Moses and the Hebrew people he was leading out of Egypt.

Lying, Adulterous, Murderous, Plagiarizing agent of a jealous god who identified its own name as Jealous.

For I am the god of jealousy, and my name is Jealous.

Look up the word jealous, and then ask;

"Jealous of what?"

A PARALLAX VIEW OF ISLAM:

JEALOUSY ARABIZED

By, Parallaxboi

In identical rewrite of the tale of Moses, (c.600AD) a 40 year old Arabian man named Muhammad said "a messenger from Allah/god" gave him the exact same message and concept. Be it noted that no evidence of other's present at the time to witness these encounters with paranormal entities.

Arabia is not in Africa, so one must take Muhammad's own version as his own, in fact amplifying this is there exist no archeological evidence that homo-erectus got up and walked Islam out of Africa into the world.

There is however, evidence of Muslims violently capturing African boy's, castrating them, and selling Africans as slaves. more evidence shows that Arab/Islamabized Moroccans invaded and destroyed the African Songhai empire in what is now Mali, and in that invasion was not only led by a Spanish Eunuch named Pasha, but the Muslim soldiers also sexually raped the African as a component of war.

It is ironic that African American inner city youth and African people on the African continent are now being taught abandoned traditional African Customs and convert into Islamist ideologies that exist antithetical to LGBTQIA+ nature when harm to ancient African civilization came from those who invaded Africa under the umbrella of foreign religion's of jealous god's and their doppelganger's.

Chiefs were attacked because they advised the Village's.

Spiritualist, Diviner's and Gatekeeper's was attacked because they advised the Chief's, King's, and the Village, and consulted with revered Ancestors in Ritual curator's of ancient artifacts, Drummers/Musician's, Dancer's, Sacred matter's, and most of these people are well observed to have been same gender loving people.

What's happening to Queer Africans today is a lot more than homophobia, it is also a restless tactic to delude the spiritual connection between all of humanity and the phenomena of truth, and in the world, LGBTQIA+ people have vibrated strongest.

5 Things Black Queer Youth Need to Know

A "Private Expression" FAM said, a YG told Him that His Son is gay, and wanted to know if there was anything He needed to know to convey to His seed.

Are focus is AFFIRMATION, our youth are bombarded with negative depiction's queerness, aggressive demonization of queerness by the Religious indoctrinated sectors of society, Community exclusionary undermining practices, peer ethnographic cultural ignorance, and plain Hatred.

The Gay Prince is also Black, which means, there is another Amazing Heterosexual incarcerated Black Man in America, and that's the first thing the young kid need's to know, and be constantly reinforced throughout the journey.

Being Gay is more than about sex, disease, struggle and hyper feminization. Like everyone else on Earth, dignity, integrity, and knowledge of self are primary.

#3

Acceptance seekers, and Empathy chaser's are falsely portrayed as community leader's. True leadership focuses on Autonomous engagement's of levels of CARE, Wellness, Spirituality, Cultural/Historical Education, specifically, Ancient History, which expands interpersonal awareness and value of people who today, would be viewed to some degree as LGBTQIA+.

#4

Understanding the demand for Equality is not a request for special treatment. Young people must be provided access to information that regards them as fellow humans, and not someone that need's to be approached from a prospective of, Abnormality, Disorder, or requiring a need to be fixed, or changed into the idea's of those Whom have appointed themselves so-called expert's of sexual morality.

#5

The Bible is not African History, it's Hebrew history, The Land of Canaan is not in Africa. The Qur'an is not African History, it's Arab history, Arabia is not in Africa. Know fact's about Black History, Black Spiritual Customs, and Liberated Fact's, so to never allowing others to guilt trip our youth away from there own value, and self worth.

1 TIME ?

My lecherous ideations come from my interest in challenging the so-called presentation of logic and reasoning, for which I refuse to apologize for.

#1. We are taught that everything from deep space reaching Earth derives from the past, and in the same breath, it is suggested that alien technology, and intelligence is far advanced. I believe that naming, and labelling thing's at our first contact, doesn't mean the existence of a thing came into existence upon our recognition, therefore, it is not advanced, yet , only renamed, for it is the renaming of a thing that is the advancement.

#2. That leave's one to question, "Is now, right now everywhere"? "Isn't distance the primary factor for the travel of all things and not time"? Distance, even from a source in motion, remains stable during the process of travel through space. Distance is the pre- measurement, while travelling through the distance is a secondary value of what we considered time. As rates of speed can fluctuate, for which time alterations can apply, it doesn't mean that the action at the starting point of travel didn't happen at the same time at the opposite landing destination, for it only took time for the duration of travel. For example, how can we say space is expanding, and objects are moving away from Earth, and then claim Andromeda galaxy is on steady course headed right for us and our Milky Way galaxy at over 700,000 mph, and due for impact approximately 4.6 billion years from now, while Dark Energy is not slowing it down coming towards Earth, and yet, at the same time causing everything else in space to move away and further into the the firmament? Zero to the minus 43, or Planck Time, was explained to me as being the point of which all the known physics apply, or as some say, the beginning of time, what it doesn't mean is just because something happened a long time ago, doesn't mean time didn't start, everywhere.

In 1990, while I was in Herman G. Stark Youth Training School, California Youth Authority facility, my Christian/Crip cellmate Curtis Lawrence ask me :

(CL)

"so you're telling me that Sun light right now we see is not 8 minutes old?"

(Pboi)

"No, I'm saying you just said the words (RIGHT NOW, and 8 MINUTES OLD) as if we also didn't experience 8 minutes ago as well, 8 minutes later was our right now on Earth, but 8 minutes ago was right now to everywhere in range of the Sun, so just because we're not on the Sun 8 minutes ago when it happened, doesn't mean we didn't experience that same start of that same 8 minutes while on Earth. We only experienced the end of that same 8 minutes, which began the start of the 9th minute."

(CL)

"Oh, yeah, so right now is....?"

(Pboi)

"Yeah, exactly, always right now no matter where we are in space because we are only factoring in the time duration of the light travelling from the Sun to Earth.

So if time applies to everywhere at once, well then, so should DIRECTION!

So the true reality is:

"Direction and Time is always Here and Now."

So it is my opinion that before the Bible and other end time apocalyptic myth's were created by creative writer's of the day, Andromeda galaxy was headed towards Earth, and RIGHT NOW, is still slated for impact with our Milky Way galaxy, a factuality that can not be refuted before, or after names and label's were assigned.

I believe that the science community, and the religious sectors of global society need to come together and measure what is measurable without conditioners of dispositions based on hypothesis, greed, control and megalomania.

It's TIME to make people aware of the projected impact of Andromeda galaxy with the Milky Way so our next generations of creator's and thinker's can make sound adjustments as it applies to the survival of ALL of our Earthly inhabitants.
