Hello GN22! I remember reading (and replying to) some of your comments a long time ago. Good to hear from you again! I hope you'll see this, late as it is, and at least know that I did get & appreciate your comment and transcription. As I've said before, it means so much to me and to all the prisoner-bloggers on this site that people like you take the time to ~~read~~ ^{read and} type out our scribblings. THANK YOU! 😊

So, did you ever read my "Bat's Unfortunate" post? I'm curious what you thought of it, if you saw it. If you like it, please look at "Gopher Broke", which is a similar type of experience. But maybe you saw that already. I'm sorry, I've forgotten which posts you replied to before... it's been awhile!

Take care, and please remember how much it means to us when you comment and transcribe.

Sincerely,
Dymitr
