

Within The Water's Rush

Hawking freedom-fighters for cocaine and guns, Coming in out of the cold of exile, only to be strung out As Huey Newton before the Black Poets Society's Court deconstructing, what worseness withers a party destroyed to degress and watch Revolution depreciated singing accelerating high octaves like Chaka Kahn Through the fire for the chance to dance to dance with you, not to lap dance around for any one being, convinced as Capitalism lifts every voice and sings questionable as Whitney Houston's demise. Hurricane Katrina currenting the South Midwest what as the Mississippi words through Missouri channels mahogany color of mud, lives were lost from Emmett Till to Bobby Hutton to Michael Brown, Louisiana must be rebuilt, as gallant as Chevalier de St. Georges singing superlatively, goodwill conscious: the gifted are free as hawks gliding in kitties above the plains, through the fire. Through the water... through it all po' a chance to dance with you — hangs no exile — 3/2/24; 1:12pm Sm. Drury
