REPLY TO QV6P Inoche.

Hello Inoche. Well this is An old message that I Just now recieved. And thats because they havent changed my Address. they sent your message to the Prison I used to be at. i've since been moved to the Tehachapi, address.

I see that you were looking at one of my First Posts when I was released from the security housing unit, thats very old. Ive been out here adjusting to life and a little more Freedom.

So I see you were in college, well by now you must be either completed with that Phase and starting your new Path. what are you doing now?

I wouldnt mind reading some of your Poetry, if you like you can send me some.

and speaking of writing Ive been writing a Autobiography. its half done, but i kind of dread having to type it next, but it has to be done in manuscript form.

but right now I dont have the time, Im really busy trying to get my case (conviction) overturned or at least to be resentenced. Okay ill close here. and hope this reaches you. and thank you for writing. its so nice and uplifting to hear from the outside world.

Best wishes for the Holidays.

Pablo
