

Iconoclassy,

Hells knucklehead right back to you! So hey, this, THIS, is some really exciting news! You said I was named a top, or THE top-rated prison blogger in the U.S.?? What the... ?? 😊 Lol! This is CRAZY to hear! I had no idea, no one has ever mentioned this to me before! What is that site, bloggers.feedspot.com/prison_blogs ?? I've never heard of it (though of course my internet has been, let's say, limited, for a few years now? Lol.) So yeah... I'm so excited!

I want to hear more about this! Could you, or anyone else reading this, maybe post a screenshot here in the comments... I wonder if that would work? Can you guys insert images into comments? I'd sure love to see this for myself!

And Between the Bars was ranked the 5th best blog site for prisoners in a WORLD ~~top~~ 30 ?? Serrously!? That's so incredibly cool! I guess I picked the right one to put my time into, eh? What are the others, if you don't mind me asking?

I really don't know what else to say. Except that this sure lights a fire under my ass. 😊 Who makes these lists, do you have any idea? Who votes, or whatever? What is one's selection based on? Is it the subjective "best", or some sort of objective "most influential"? Is it the most used, or most trafficked... I mean, give me some data! I'm dying to know more now! How ~~cool~~ cool that my name appears connected to something so positive, instead of just old zombie sites blabbing and regurgitating piggy lies and misrepresentations, a bunch of empty-headed shills for a false narrative based on prejudice and blood lust. It's about time! And that, along with my part in the International Falsely Accused Day YouTube video... maybe truth will get a turn after all? Thank you so much for letting me know about this! I'll put together a proper post on it ASAP! 😊

With great appreciation - Dymitri