

Well hello hello, Sgraceroe... at Gmail dot com. ☺

Thanks so much for staying up on this blog, doing transcriptions for me, leaving comments... it's almost like there's people out there who actually care about me. Still? Again? Hmm.

Yeah this issue of increasing criminalization is certainly more topical than ever, isn't it? We're seeing a real renaissance <sup>of the</sup> fear mongers and panic pushers, and I just wanna channel my inner ~~that~~ Nancy Reagan and scream out, "People! Just Say No!" But no one's listening. It's just too engaging to succumb to popular waves of fear, riding them in our little life rafts inflated by all the hot air of cultivated outrage.

So, hang on tight, I guess. The seas ahead look awfully choppy to me. ☹
Thanks again, and take care!
