Hi there Iconoclasy. Nice name, btw. Anyway, I've been seeing a few comments from you and I might not reply to all of them but I want to let you know I REALLY appreciate you looking at and commenting on some of my older posts. I don't know if many of these are even transcribed. Would you let me know? Some of these, like this warning about the horrors of DHM (Dihydrogen Monoxide), I'd almost forgotten I ever wrote. Sometimes you think something's gonna get attention then it just doesn't. Do you know any way I might get more eyes on these older postings? Or do I just have to re-do them as new ones?

Anyway, yeah, stay vigilant about that DHM, man. All of you, please — be careful. That stuff is literally everywhere.
