Hello hello, sgraceroe! ◡̈ I'm stupidly behind in replying to comments, and behind in getting new posts done (I have probably about 40-50 prompts and half-formed ideas stacked up now, maybe 2-3 of which will ever see the light of day ... or glow of screen, I suppose). Anyway, I love when you comment here! We talk a lot in other ways, but you always have something interesting to say so when you put it here, on my blog, it just makes everything a little better. ◡̈ I hope people seeing your interactions with me here inspires them to leave comments too ... we need lively exchanges!

Yeah, thanks for the compliment about the world needing more ppl like me to call out BS when I see it. However dubious that idea may be, lol!, I'll just say... I'm kinda like a prematurely old man, I guess. You know how old folks will just spout off, no filter, full IDAF mode, cuz, you know, why not? Old age makes them fearless, so little to lose. Well, I feel that not-much-to-lose aura myself, not from age, but just cuz the fucking thieves with badges took EVERYTHING. In a fucked up way, it is sort of freeing. TTYL! ◡̈
