

Spirally - Thanks for transcribing! Well, actually, it doesn't say you did transcribe it. Usually the comment print outs I receive have some kind of pre-made lines about "Thank you for writing! I've finished transcribing your post," which tips me off to those who actually transcribe vs. those who are just engaging the content (I love when folks do both! 😊). With tools like Google Lens, Grok, all the other AI options out there now, I sure hope more people will transcribe posts on this site, mine as well as others. I know how good it feels when I get confirmation that people are actually seeing my stuff, and from what I've heard, I might even get more comments and transcriptions than most bloggers here. It doesn't feel like I get very many, so I'm sure the experience for others must be a little discouraging. Please comment & transcribe folks on this site! It's such an important outlet for prisoners, and it needs to stay healthy. 😊

(Plus, again, with AI now... it's so much easier, right? Especially for ppl who post multi-pagers like I do sometimes! 😊)

Thanks for being involved, Spirally!
