

Hello America and United Nation and Continent,

Many people been wondering where the blogger Jennifer Johnson, can I keep it 100 with you. Its very discouraging when you pour your heart out in your writing to people in the world in they take ~~it~~ your words in use it against you to hold you in prison.

Seccondly, its discouraging when you ask for help, people reject you and turn around towards the health care CEO ~~and~~ alleged killer and send him millions of dollars, while I det in a cold prison cell with a case surrounding circumstantial and hearsay evidence. Nobody hears or acknowledge me, I been trying to get a good criminal lawyer to fight this murder conviction and raise money to get my self established upon release. I lost everything. I really feel irrelevant to people.

So viewers, you tell me do anyone deserve to read anymore of my writings or should I stay in my corner and just shut up. Because my voice is only beneficial to those who can use the knowledge and get fat off my knowledge, while I continue to shrink in size and mildew in prison because beside I was indicted right, so the world fills why should I help a criminal but you helped the United health care CEO killer, so why not me?

once again:

I am trying to raise $66,000 on my inmate account for housing, car etc upon release - you can get a tax break under charity fund for Donating to me,

I am in need of a good criminal attorney that can win a murder case has to be in the name of $999 incument can be sent through Cashier check
