

You all only think they're saying "A.I.", but what they're really saying is "aye-aye"; it's double-speak: they're taking one word and pronouncing it two different ways, double-speak (It's a different kind of double-speak, but it's still double-speak).