Gah! Lisa! "End Solitary"! So great to hear from you!

I'm glad you liked the cartoon - yes, it felt really appropriate to our moment in history when I saw it. So, are you back to leaving regular/frequent comments here? It seemed that Between the Bats had slowed down for awhile, but for sure I slowed down with BtB, basically all of 2025 I posted nearly nothing. Just so much going on, all very negative. But as you can see, I'm really trying to pick things back up. Are there lots of other active bloggers today? I know when I get comments, it really lights a fire under me to re-engage. Hopefully others ~~are~~ ^{are} getting comments too and being more involved. Looks like BtB really cut back the frequency of adding new posts, too. I get batches of 5 or 10 now, all sent separately but posted the same day. That rarely used to happen.

Anyway, ok, per your instructions, I will keep posting. You keep replying. Encourage others to, too. I sure hope this platform stays strong for years to come. It's so important. Thanks for everything!

Sincerely, Dymitri
