

Doeth Please

(For Lisa)

I. Who sonnetteers about her Rose more than Poets afforded pleasure doeth please Love Faithful Faithful loving comforts ease
And! letters Man a man of letters' can—
No Rose bests her scent! to bid better brand
To allow her to touch this heart—what peace Settles between us fair as Bondings' lease
No eviction shall it part Woman for Man!—

II. Songs from the soul of sonnetteers! Kiss Rose Her scent unrestricted in Beautiful!
She may be one of the finest pleasures
Ever gifted bade to Man muses love
In depth and at length beats thy heart
The fortunate fortune he forts for sure—

A Beautiful Song: A Sonnet for Friends Mother

This Sonnet speaks of Love, as gentle as fall / Ing into her arms after release from Wrong Conviction — Ease, as waterfalls Waters fall to current on... sent here from A Famous Poet in my behalf to Honor her outright forthfold as Love shall love, and does love in return thereto /
Which a Mother doesn't find out of groove
With melodic-harmony rhythming us like a crib being rocked in time, sings! :
A song like Whitney Houston sung, blue ribbon.
This Sonnet speaks to sing songs of her — sing
To ease and comfort you some, as Love be! d Begetting beauty, as Beautiful be — #15126

(FOR ADVOCATES OF WRONG CONVICTION)

Little to nothing, I am to you: Unhandsome to Beauty upon an ebb of Ozark acreage, a glimpse of honey-dawn concise a thought I am exalted in heart by TRUTH — if yet freedom plains
If given good condition of Diligent Representation
DEAR Kathleen T. Zellner: "the Poetry Cases Reside dear," as if Diligence would take to Compassion unencumbered?.. Well!, this is Missouri, after all is said and done, Sun rescinds to the West. And still, the question remains up in the air: "if a cup — why not a pitcher to vindicate?" 2013 Wm. D. King
