

Alberto (#ItalianGuy),

Hi! Thank you for your reply to my tongue-in-cheek post about the truly tragic kidnapping of Nancy Guthrie (who still hasn't been returned to her family, I think? 😞). I hope you didn't misunderstand my meaning. I was making light of a serious situation; perhaps that was bad taste. Sorry if it offended you. I meant NO ill or evil toward that poor lady, believe me. I feel deeply, genuinely, for her and her loved ones. I did intend some malice toward Nancy Grace, though — do you know who she is? She's a wretched, vile, fame whore, always trying to aggrandize herself by demonizing others. She is a celebrity "crime" commentator, like her putrid predecessor, John Walsh, and I wrote my post only to dig at her, not at all to belittle the woman who was actually kidnapped. My "joke" there, mean-spirited but, I think, not undeserved, was that those kidnappers would have done us all a favor if they'd kidnapped nasty Nancy Grace instead of the terrible crime of taking innocent Nancy Guthrie. Again, sorry if that fell flat.

Sincerely Yours, Dymitri