Saluto, Alberto! Spero che tu stia bene oggi. I received your comment with some Italian history, grazia! 😊 I really know so few words, but trying to read your longer bits in Italian (with the ~~accompanying~~ translations) is really helping me learn. I also noticed this last comment from you — well, the last one I've seen so far, but the mail is often slow — it had your name as "Roberto", not "Alberto". Maybe that was a case of overactive autocorrect? Lol, I call "autocorrect" "auto-corrupt", because it so often mangles words I typed correctly the first time. Anyway, hope to hear more from you soon. I'm in the process of sending a series of posts that sort of chronicle my recent transfer to another prison. Love to hear what you think of it! Take care, a presto... Dymitri
