

Asiyu Sees Within,

Thank you for your email and well intended advice - I'm smiling - as I work through things my way - and its pretty much how you feel about Hood - I don't need or want anyone to hold my hand to the death chamber - if people are unable to understand I did not receive a fair and impartial trial with that extending into the appellate process - I don't need their ignorance dragging me down anymore than I am ...

Florida's legal system has already shown it is not going to correct itself and that means if help is going to come it will have to be from outside the legal system - I want to use artificial intelligence to help me achieve that goal by allowing me to appeal to the court of public opinion and lay out the facts that clearly prove I was denied a fair and impartial trial and having that violation of the law carried over into the appellate process - due to Florida controlling my legal representation and it showing itself to be a criminal enterprise that amounts to racketeering ... Something Florida will continue to oppress and suppress at my expense due to my lack of support in reaching the court of public opinion ...

So if you tell me you oppose the death penalty - yet refuse to help me bring to light the travesty that put me on death row - I don't want that type of support - period !!!

For now - love to you - One Eagle - xo
