"CHRISTA PIKE"

By Ronald Wayne Clark Jr.

I see where Christa woke up confused and angry. I can understand that. You've just been convinced your closing your eyes for the last time, the fear of death and the unknown and the heartbreak of your family is your last thoughts, only to wake up confused in a hospital shackled to a bed with a breathing tub down your throat, and your mind and body in bad shape from this botched murder plot by the state of Tennessee.

Let's look at a couple of things, her sentence was carried out. So another attempt to take her life should in all accounts be deemed Double Jeopardy. She laid on that gurney and gave up her life as required by her sentence, the state of Tennessee unequivocally failed in conducting this state sanctioned premeditated homicide. In all reality her sentence was carried out.

To put her through another date with death, to see what inmate and our families go through, please go over to: www.abolitionflorida.org/tool-kit and read or listen to A DATE WITH DEATH, a step by step protocol of what inmate and family members are put through during these executions. So to have to go through this all over again, would not only victimize Christa, but her family friends and everyone who loves her. So in all reality it is Double Jeopardy and victimizes Christa's family friends as well as her.

Enough is enough! Stop the hate and madness that's buried deep in your heart. This desire for vengeance is not healing, its opening old wounds of anger and hatred. You know its true. God bless you and may you be on the righteous side of preserving life, and not the evil side of destroying it.

In Peace and love Ronald Wayne Clark Jr.
