A LITTLE MORE ABOUT ME

Since I am asking people for feedback for a book I am going to write, I want to share a little more about me and explain why I am writing this book and why I want feedback before I write it.

My name is Joseph Dickey and I am 58 years old. I have been incarcerated for over 21 years and I am currently serving a 135 year sentence in a federal prison. My legal case is a nightmare few would believe unless they lived it themselves. I am not going to use this blog to debate or discuss my legal case. However, if anyone is interested there is an entire website which discusses what took place in my case with supporting documents. Also, several internet platforms contain information about me and/or my first book. I invite anyone reading this to visit all of them. The platforms are:

Prisonprofessors.org (This is where you will find my biography, journal entries, and book reports on the books I have recently read)
GovMisconduct.com (This is where you will find legal documents related to my case and a sit-down interview with me titled: "Killing Mr. Joseph". If you are interested in my legal case I strongly encourage you to read this interview and then examine the documents on this site.)
Amazon.com (My first book: "The Chomologist: Observations of the Behaviors, Characteristics, and Beliefs of Child Predators")
YouTube.com (https://www.youtube.com/watch?=5aRYpQnxbXQ) (A video about my first book)

My Education Includes:

Bachelor of Science, Human Environmental Science, (Human Development)
University of Alabama, 1993

Private Pilot, VFR Fixed Pitch Single Engine
Tuscaloosa Aviation, 1994

Master of Science, Human Environmental Science, (Family Studies)
University of Alabama, 1999

Paralegal Studies
Blackstone Career Institute, 2016

I am writing my newest book because I have seen so many terrible flaws within the federal criminal system which are not only unfair to the accused, but sometimes also unfair to the victims of crime. I want to write about these flaws and incorporate how the public feels about them. I will be using this blog to hopefully get valuable feedback on several issues I will discuss in future postings. I also plan on contacting legal professionals and victim advocacy groups to get their input.

Because I have been inside the "system" for so many years, I have experienced and seen many of these flaws first hand. There are so many things I am willing to bet the public does not even know takes place. There are also many missed opportunities in which the justice system could better serve their purpose of keeping the public safe while at the same time provide a safe and rehabilitative environment for the inmates. I am not intending to complain in this book, I am planning on discussing the issues in an intelligent informed manner and hopefully offer some realistic solutions.

Almost all inmates are going to return to society one day. It only makes sense you would want them to return a better person than when they entered prison. Unfortunately, that is far to often not the case. The only way anything will ever change is to bring awareness, invoke discussions, and then hopefully offer some realistic solutions. Almost everyone has heard "the system is broken" but no one is offering a solution. Maybe we all can come up with some options. That is why I am writing this book. Rather than just complain.....I want to help make the change.

I look forward to diving into this issue with you in future posts and hearing from anyone who wants to voice their opinions.
